Smart City Features

- i. Promoting mixed land use in area based developments—planning for 'unplanned areas' containing a range of compatible activities and land uses close to one another in order to make land use more efficient. The States will enable some flexibility in land use and building bye-laws to adapt to change;
- ii. Housing and inclusiveness - expand housing opportunities for all;
- iii. Creating walkable localities –reduce congestion, air pollution and resource depletion, boost local economy, promote interactions and ensure security. The road network is created or refurbished not only for vehicles and public transport, but also for pedestrians and cyclists, and necessary administrative services are offered within walking or cycling distance;
- iv. Preserving and developing open spaces - parks, playgrounds, and recreational spaces in order to enhance the quality of life of citizens, reduce the urban heat effects in Areas and generally promote eco-balance;
- v. Promoting a variety of transport options - Transit Oriented Development (TOD), public transport and last mile para-transport connectivity;
- vi. Making governance citizen-friendly and cost effective - increasingly rely on online services to bring about accountability and transparency, especially using mobiles to reduce cost of services and providing services without having to go to municipal offices. Forming e-groups to listen to people and obtain feedback and use online monitoring of programs and activities with the aid of cyber tour of worksites;
- vii. Giving an identity to the city - based on its main economic activity, such as local cuisine, health, education, arts and craft, culture, sports goods, furniture, hosiery, textile, dairy, etc;
- viii. Applying Smart Solutions to infrastructure and services in area-based development in order to make them better. For example, making Areas less vulnerable to disasters, using fewer resources, and providing cheaper services.

Preamble

Proper planning of limited available resources is difficult but not impossible. This is evident from the success behind Singapore's beautiful skyline.

The republic nation of Singapore suffered severe crisis initially after it achieved independence in 1965. Soon, it embarked on a modernization spree that focused on establishment of a manufacturing industry, developing large public housing estates. Since independence, its economy has risen consistently. And within 25 years of its freedom, the country evolved into one of the world's most prosperous nations, with a highly developed free market economy. The island nation of Singapore is perhaps one country which has scaled dizzying heights in a short span of time. Efficient Civil Services and able leadership have helped this vibrant and hi-tech nation catapult into one of the most lovely and successful places in the world.

Role Models: "Singapore, Kuala Lumpur (Malaysia) & Bangkok (Thailand)"

Singapore

The Urban Redevelopment Authority (URA) is Singapore's national land use planning authority, which has been instrumental in building quality real estate. URA draws up long-term strategic plans, as well as detailed local area plans, for physical development, and then coordinates to turn its plans to reality.

A professional way of managing and maintaining its real estate has given way to its continued economic progress and future development. Space Utilization

The space constraint seems to have come as a blessing in disguise for Singapore. The authorities focused on raising skyscrapers, huge in number. Instead of scattering its facilities, successful attempts have been made to house everything at one place and in one building, have also added to Singapore's beauty. Land use is intensified by locating various facilities together instead of separately. For example, storm water collection ponds are located under road flyovers; and stack factories; train stations and bus stations are located over each other. Also there is a strive to constantly find ways to minimize constraints on development by using technology such as cleaner power station fuel to reduce buffer zones of polluted factories, or group such industries together and relocate them. Roads & other transport systems

For countries like India where roads hardly bear the weight of vehicles, authorities in charge of road development here should visit Singapore to see how roads can host world-class events like Formula

One Grand Prix! The country's world-class connectivity makes the place a favorite tourist destination. It has an advanced metro system. The Mass Rapid Transit (MRT) is a modern and economical way of travel in Singapore. Ferry services, cable cars, mono rails, high-tech taxis, sightseeing flights etc. make a tourist's visit to Singapore a memorable one.

Malaysia

Malaysia's persistent drive to develop and upgrade its infrastructure has resulted in one of the most well developed infrastructure among the newly industrializing countries of Asia.

Peninsular Malaysia's network of well-maintained highways is a boon to industries. These highways link major growth centers to seaports and airports throughout the peninsula and provide an efficient means of transportation for goods, a Kuala Lumpur-Bangkok-Kuala Lumpur containerized service known as the Asian Rail Express (ARX). International trade, especially seaborne trade, has traditionally been the lifeblood of Malaysia, Port Klang and Port of TanjungPelepas among Asia. Malaysia's International Airports are ranked number one for overall business passenger satisfaction in an International Air Transport Association Survey. Industries in Malaysia are mainly located in over 200 industrial estates or parks and 14 Free Industrial Zones (FIZs) developed throughout the country. New sites, fully equipped with infrastructure facilities such as roads, electricity and water supplies, and telecommunications, are continuously being developed by state governments as well as private developers. The latest digital and fiber optics technology is being used to provide high quality telecommunication services at competitive prices.

Thailand

Thailand government has continuously improved the nation's infrastructure, both in Bangkok and the provinces, tremendous strides have been made, especially in transportation projects. Bangkok's Skytrain was introduced years ago, making transportation more reliable in a city known for its traffic jams but after development of infrastructure including access to power and water, has helped Thailand fuel rapid economic growth during the past three decades and also helped facilitate international trade and improved the efficiency of everyday business activities. Thailand's water transportation system has long been an important part of the country's history and industries. With a coastline of 3,219 km and over 4,000 km of inland waterways, Thailand's water transportation and ports infrastructure are essential to its overall transportation and trade.

Introduction

As is well known, most projects are very complex, have numerous inter-dependent and inter-related activities, involve heavy investments, require high level of technology and need effective management of voluminous resources. They cross geographical boundaries, corporate channels, traditional systems and cultural diversities.
Modern projects have inherent difficulties, uncertainties and risks. They interact technically, economically and socially with the environment. The fast changing environments of the present era impose numerous financial, legal, ethical, environments, and logistic constraints. Project management involves use of technical and management skills to achieve the project objectives, within the specified time, budgeted cost and predefined quality specifications, by leading the project participants, efficiently, effectively and ethically. While our engineers possess technical expertise, they often lack project management skills.

Objective

The main Objectives of the Course are to discuss advanced project management tools so as to orient engineers with the knowledge and skills needed to manage such projects, covering aspects like formulation of a project and management of its scope, organization, time, resources, costs, quality, procurement, risks, information system and interpersonal skills.
